

My Purpose

MY TRUE PURPOSE for writing this book is twofold. First and foremost is to channel the love and guidance of the angels so that it may bring forth healing and transformation. I also feel very strongly that every person will derive something “special” from every one of the many writings and channeling sessions. Just by opening this book to a certain page, at any given time the “message” will start to bring “clarity” to all of your daily challenges. Keep in mind that the angels have special messages for each and every one of us daily if we choose to listen.

So let’s begin the journey with the angels, Americo Michael, and the many that have made their journey home.

The Angel Nathaniel: Full of Fiery Hope and Movement

How perfect! Since the tone of Americo Michael is one of “transformation.” Nathaniel is committed to bringing about change quickly, and in a positive and uplifting way. These are his words:

As I help to transform your body, mind and spirit, I delight in the work that is about to take place. You are open and ready for this, and I have waited; for as humans you have free will, and as angels we must respect this at all times. I invite you now to call upon me for it is time, and the energies are ready, and waiting, for this monumental change to take place. Do not hesitate, but allow these supportive energies to unfold. With splendor, and with zest, you move at a much quicker pace now. No need to turn back for the past is just that. Feel the energies as they usher you to the next level of your spiritual growth. You are filled with capabilities that have lain dormant for many years. The breath will help you along, so use this life giving tool for your progression. Remember I am with you so call upon me often. There is no need for fear or doubt, now is the time to push through the barriers that have held you back. Luck is on your side, and determination is plentiful as you welcome in the life that you have been waiting for. And always remember: One with God, I enjoy a life that is blessed and truly divine.

IN THE BEGINNING

Right before I started working with the angels, they were in the background setting up our meeting. For many years, I collected angels from every location in which I traveled. Once my collection began, friends and family members added to it. My home has become an “angelic sanctuary” and to this day I still welcome any and all angelic gifts. I often tell people that one day they will see my home flying above the clouds on huge “angel wings.” This brings comfort to all who enter, and my “angel room” though small, is full of angelic energy and warmth. I feel so very fortunate to have been given this wonderful gift, and even more fortunate to share it with those who come and share in the angels’ guidance.

As I began to work with the angels, my capabilities grew. Through a series of events, I was lead to work hand in hand with the angelic energies that surround us each and every day. After the passing of my father Americo Michael, I knew I was meant to work with the angels, and several months after his passing I was given a sign that lead me to create Heavenly Messengers.

It was right around early summer in 1995 when a friend of mine invited me to a psychic fair at the Unitarian Church nearby. I was excited about going, and as I entered the church, I could see that the energy was powerful and nurturing. The first thing that I was instructed to do was to put my name in a raffle at the door. Then my friend and I started to go to the different practitioners and merchants who had set up booths on the first floor. Above, on the second floor was where the psychics and mediums were doing their work.

I came upon one table in particular that had an array of metaphysical books and tapes, and then all of a sudden I was standing in front of a beautiful deck of angelic blessings cards. They seemed to be “calling” my name, and as I picked them up I knew they were meant for me. I looked in my wallet at that point, and realized I didn’t have enough cash to purchase them so I took out my credit card. I couldn’t remember if I had sent out the payment on time, and wasn't sure the transaction would be approved. As the merchant put the card through the machine, I prayed that I had enough money to cover the angelic deck. Sure enough the card went through, and as she handed me the bag a feeling of gratitude came over me.

The rest of the day seemed to fly by, and I truly enjoyed the healers, and the many programs that went along with the fair. At 4:00 when the fair was about to end the raffle was drawn, and low and behold they were raffling off a huge basket full of angelic gifts. There was a lovely angelic tee shirt, angel mug, a book on angels and several other angelic offerings. As I listened for a name to be called I couldn't believe my ears when they said, "Cathi Burke." I had won the basket! Several people who knew me said this is a "sign" and a confirmation. I had bought the angelic deck, and the angels were now confirming that it was time for me to work with them. As I carried the huge basket along with my angelic cards back to the car I felt content, and a sense of joy accompanied me all the way home.

That evening I sat with the cards and felt the warm and loving energy that came from each angel. There was a book with the deck but I only glanced at it briefly, for I knew the angels wanted to come to me in their own words. That evening I put the deck aside, and it would be several months before I felt compelled to pull it out, and look at them again. I was working as a chiropractic assistant at the time, and really didn't care for my job. I had gone to work that morning feeling rather forlorn. The tension had been building for some time, and that very morning I had decided to leave. As I entered my home that evening, I felt as if I had the weight of the world on my shoulders. "Now what?" I had just quit my job, and didn't know what I was going to do. All I knew at that point was I just couldn't do what I was doing for another day. As I sat at the kitchen table, I felt a gentle nudge to go and get the angelic deck. I was instructed to hold the cards and to feel the energy that was emanating from them. The room became very quiet, and there in front of me was my beautiful angelic deck just waiting for me to listen. Suddenly a voice whispered in my ear telling me to hold one of the angelic cards. As I did, I started to feel sensations in my body, as well as to hear lovely music, and gentle loving whispers. I was told not to judge, just listen, and so I did. Within minutes I was receiving the guidance, and love that the angels so wanted me to have. From that day forward I have worked with family and friends channeling the beautiful angelic energy that seemed to flow easily and effortlessly. The angels took over, and showed me just what I needed to know, and for some reason I never questioned their advice. I was instructed to get business cards with the name Heavenly Messengers, and after that it all fell into place. Right around that same time I was connecting with my father daily, and others who had made the journey started coming through. It was funny because if anyone had ever told me I would be channeling spirit from the other side I would have thought they were crazy, but here I was doing just that. It all felt so right and unfolded so easily.

Over the past eleven years my commitment and love for the angels has grown and so has my ability. I feel honored to work with spirit, and delight in bringing this love and guidance to all who come my way. As time passed, I followed the angels' guidance, and different avenues started to unfold. First, I was instructed to do a 12 month forecast with my clients, then long distance readings, angelic parties, and angelic coaching. All of which have helped many on their path.
